(ii) Submission through service providers

A shareholder who chooses to vote remotely through service providers must submit their voting instructions to their custodian agents or directly to B3, in the case of shareholders holding shares deposited in a central depository, or to the Company's share registrar, following each service provider's specific rules.

To do so, shareholders must contact their custodian agents, B3, or the registrar, depending on whether their shares are deposited in a central depository, and verify the procedures, documents, and information required for submitting voting instructions via the Ballot.

If there is any discrepancy between the instructions submitted via a Ballot sent directly to the Company and those contained in the voting map submitted by the registrar or central depository for the same shareholder, the instructions in the voting map submitted by the registrar or depositary will prevail, and the Ballot received by the Company will be disregarded. The Company clarifies that conflicting voting instructions—i.e., cases where the same shareholder votes in different ways for the same resolution through Ballots submitted via different service providers—will be disregarded.
