

Aliansce Sonae is recognized by Institutional Investor magazine

Aliansce Sonae, the largest mall manager in Brazil, was recognized in four categories in the Latin America Best Investor Relations ranking, issued by the international magazine Institutional Investor.

Rafael Sales, Aliansce Sonae's CEO, was elected as first place for "Best CEO" category and Daniella Guanabara was elected as first place for "Best IR Professional". The Company was also ranked among the top three best in class in Latin America for "Best IR Team" and "Best Analyst Day".

This recognition strengthens Aliansce Sonae's goal to "offer the best possible experience to consumers, have the best locations, be the best partner for tenants, the best company to work for and the best option for investors, with socio-environmental responsibility in surrounding communities".

Institutional Investor is recognized as the international leading provider of independent, qualitative feedback to the financial community on the financial market, and the Latin America Best Investor Relations ranking aims to identify the best professionals, teams, investor relations programs, analyst day and best environmental, social and governance practices for Latin America. The selection of winners is based on votes from market professionals, who evaluate the performance and attributes of the Companies.
