Sustainable packaging market drivers

- I Paper-based are the best solutions for packaging
- II Demand for sustainability: substitution of plastic for paper
- III Growth of e-commerce and delivery

FIBER PACKAGING IS SUPERIOR TO ALTERNATIVES

I Fiber packaging is renewable and easily recyclable, as well as it does not produce harmful gases during the recycling process. It is biodegradable and results in less environmental risk when discarded. It is economical, resistant and hygienic that protects the consumer's health.

GROWING DEMAND FOR SUSTAINABILITY AND SUBSTITUTION OF PLASTICS

II

- Consumers want more than just quality, often looking for products and brands that align with their personal values.
- People strongly believe that companies should help improve the environment.

Example: Louis Vuitton has committed to replacing 100% of its single-use plastic consumption with sustainable packaging by 2030.

Example: Amazon has replaced 95% of plastic air bags in North American delivery packaging with paper padding.

Example Nestlé has launched new recyclable paper packaging for Nescafé in Europe, made with 95% paper fiber. These replace plastic cans and refills and are part of the company's plan to reduce plastic use by 2025.

Coca-Cola launches America's first KeelClip™ paperboard packaging for multipack cans.

THE RISE OF E-COMMERCE AND DELIVERY ARE AN IMPORTANT DRIVER OF SUSTAINABLE PACKAGING GROWTH

III

29%

average annual growth in Brazilian e-commerce since 2016, driving demand for sustainable packaging.

+35%

total growth in the two years 2023 and 2024, after the pandemic boom, reinforcing the structural thesis, not just circumstantial.

80%

of all global e-commerce sales are made with corrugated cardboard packaging.
