

Ricardo Takemitsu Simabuku

Ricardo Takemitsu Simabuku has a degree in Electrical Engineering (1986), Electrotechnical modality, from the Polytechnic School of the University of São Paulo (USP) and has a specialization in Public Management from the National School of Public Administration (Enap). He was inducted in 2006 as a specialist in Public Policy and Government Management at the Ministry of Economy. He has experience in industrial automation and electrical projects in the areas of power generation (hydroelectric and thermoelectric), the petrochemical, beverage, food, ore handling and sugar and alcohol industries. He currently holds the position of advisor to the Executive Secretariat of the Ministry of Mines and Energy (MME).

Fonte: www.eletrobras.com

Atualizado em: 27 de maio de 2021

Centrais Elétricas Brasileiras S.A. - Eletrobras