Statements in this presentation contain various forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the US Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the US Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which represent the Company's expectations, beliefs or projections concerning future events and financial trends affecting the financial condition of our business. When used in this presentation, the words "expects," "intends," "estimates," "predicts," "plans," "anticipates," "indicates," "believes," "forecast," "guidance," "potential," "outlook," "may," "continue," "will," "should," "seeks," "targets" and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Similarly, statements that describe the Company's objectives, plans or goals, or actions the Company may take in the future, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include, without limitation, ostatements regarding the Company's expected long-term, profitable growth, anticipated growth, expectation of low costs going lower, ability to increase its ancillary revenues, ability to maintain a low-cost structure and ability to effectively mitigate P&W's engine accelerated inspections. Forward-looking statements should not be read as a guarantee or assurance of future performance or results and will not necessarily be accurate indications of the times at, or by, which such performance or results will be achieved. Forward-looking statements are based on information available at the time those statements are made. Forward-looking statements are subject to several factors that could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially from the Company's expectations, including the belief as of that time with respect to future events, the competitive environment in the airline industry; the Company's ability to keep costs low; changes in fuel costs; the impact of worldwide economic conditions on customer travel behavior; the Company's ability to generate non-ticket revenue; and government regulation. Additional information concerning these and other factors are contained in the Company's SEC filings. All forward-looking statements attributable to us or persons acting on our behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements set forth above. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this presentation. You should not put undue reliance on any forward-looking statements. We assume no obligation to update forward-looking statements to reflect actual results, changes in assumptions or changes in other factors affecting forward-looking information, except to the extent required by applicable law. If we update one or more forward-looking statements, no inference should be drawn that we will make additional updates with respect to those or other forward-looking statements. The risks and uncertainties regarding these forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, those set forth under the heading "Risk Factors" in the Company's Report on Form 20 for the year ended December 31, 2024, and in the Company's other filings with the SEC, which are available at www.sec.gov.

One of the lowest-cost operators worldwide

CASM ex fuel

Key elements to achieve our low-cost structure

Efficient single fleet

One of the youngest fleet in the Americas, composed of Airbus A320 family aircraft (Avg. age 6.5 years)

High asset utilization and efficient schedule

One of the world's highest narrow body aircraft utilization rates by a publicly-traded airline (Block hours 13.2)

Direct sales channels distribution

Encouraging customers to purchase flight tickets through our digital channels (Direct bookings ~85%)

Variable cost structure

Variable portion of employee's compensation is aligned with shareholders' interests and all other non-fleet related costs are variable (Variable and semi-fixed costs 70%+)

Solid long-term cost control strategy: Volaris' disciplined approach in containing controllable costs is a continuous source of competitive advantage within the industry

All non-fleet related costs have a variable component, providing a competitive advantage

70%+ of Volaris' costs and expenses have been variable or semi-fixed over the past 3 years, providing flexibility to adjust capacity

All our Ambassadors have variable compensation programs with a focus on productivity

~75% of Senior Management's compensation is based on variable plans linked to key financial, operational, and commercial metrics

Leveraging fleet orderbook to strengthen cost leadership...

Favorable aircraft pricing negotiated with Airbus through Indigo portfolio airlines' joint procurement, combined with competitive lease rates, to reduce fleet ownership cost

Increasing percentage of NEO aircraft is a natural hedge against fuel prices (~15% fuel consumption reduction)

More seats per departure

Based on contractual delivery schedule adjusted for aircraft delays known as of the date of presentation. The content of this slide is forward-looking, subject to significant business, economic, regulatory and competitive uncertainties and contingencies, many of which are beyond the control of the Company and its management and is based upon assumptions with respect to future decisions, which are subject to change.

- Volaris is the first ULCC in the region
- Will pursue opportunistic growth

Similar demographics and VFR patterns as Mexico with untapped ULCC presence

Mexico is ideally suited for the ULCC model

Consolidated market: top three players hold ~99% of total market

ULCCs represent ~70% of the domestic market

Large bus switching potential

Strong and resilient VFR market

Ideally suited geography for aviation

No rail passenger system

Favorable demographics

Mexico is in the early stages of growth and the increase in trips per capita towards levels seen in comparable markets presents a significant opportunity to expand capacity

Note: Medium-term addressable market of bus passengers includes inter-city rides between cities with commercial airports, catering to populations with income levels A, B, C+, and C, and focuses on journeys with a road travel demand of >5 hours. Aeroméxico considers reachable markets. Data as of 2Q'25.

Volaris is one of the largest foreign carriers in the U.S.

A growing Mexican heritage population provides increasing demand for Volaris' transborder VFR market

- Roughly 65 million⁽¹⁾ people in the U.S. have Hispanic background, with ~38 million having Mexican heritage

Cost gap between Volaris and the U.S. carriers is expected to further widen our transborder advantage

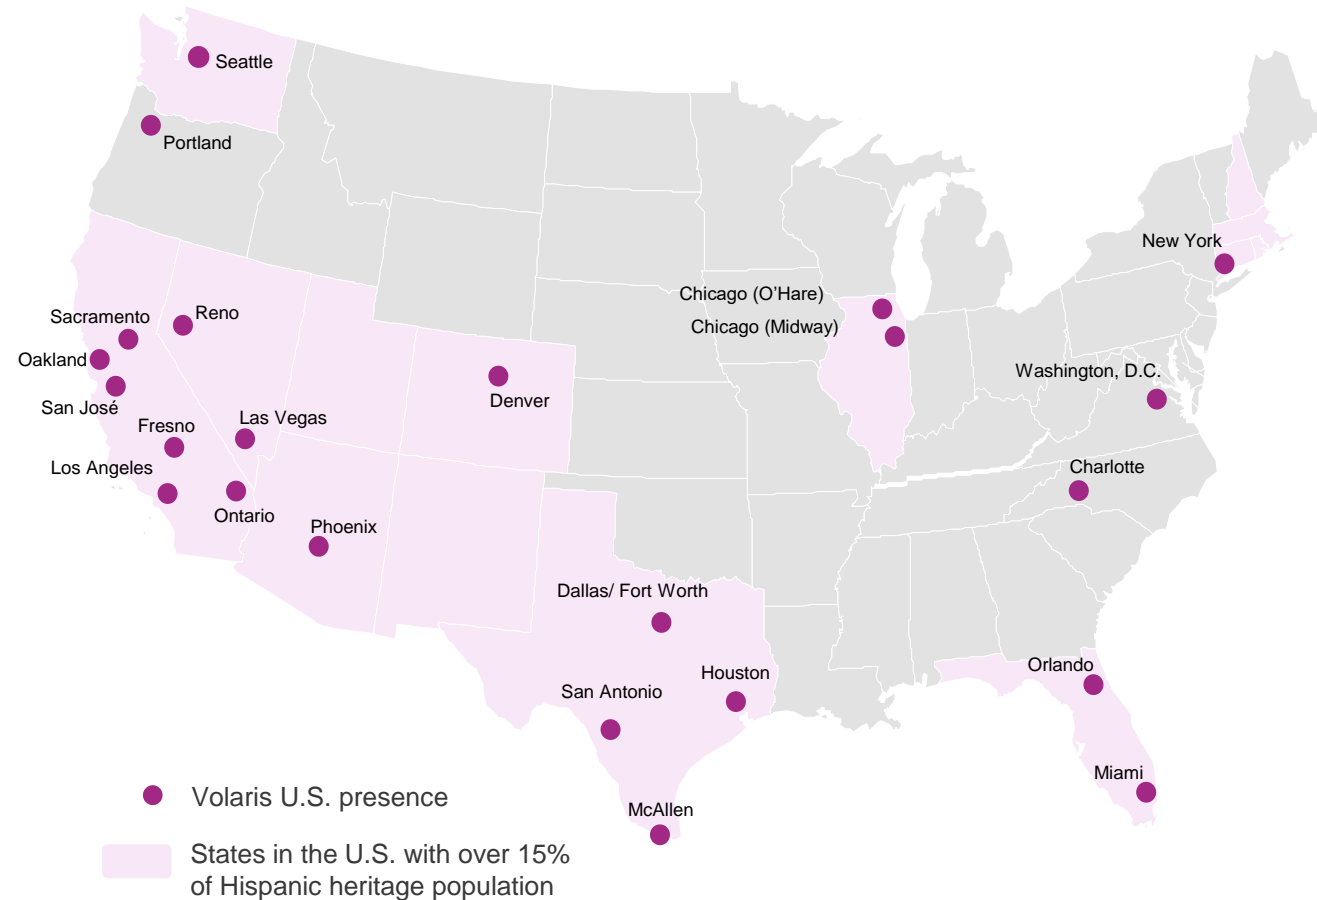

International network on ASM basis was ~40% in 2024, up from 35% in 2023, boosting US dollar-denominated revenues

Volaris unique marketing strategies in the U.S. are difficult to replicate, such as grassroots marketing campaigns directed to the Hispanic communities

The U.S. southbound leisure market represents a potential mid-term growth opportunity as it is the largest segment in Mexico-U.S. transborder travel

Central America has similar demographics and VFR patterns as Mexico with untapped ULCC presence

Air Operator Certificates (AOCs) in Costa Rica and El Salvador allow Volaris to directly serve the U.S. market with great potential to mirror Volaris' VFR model in Mexico.

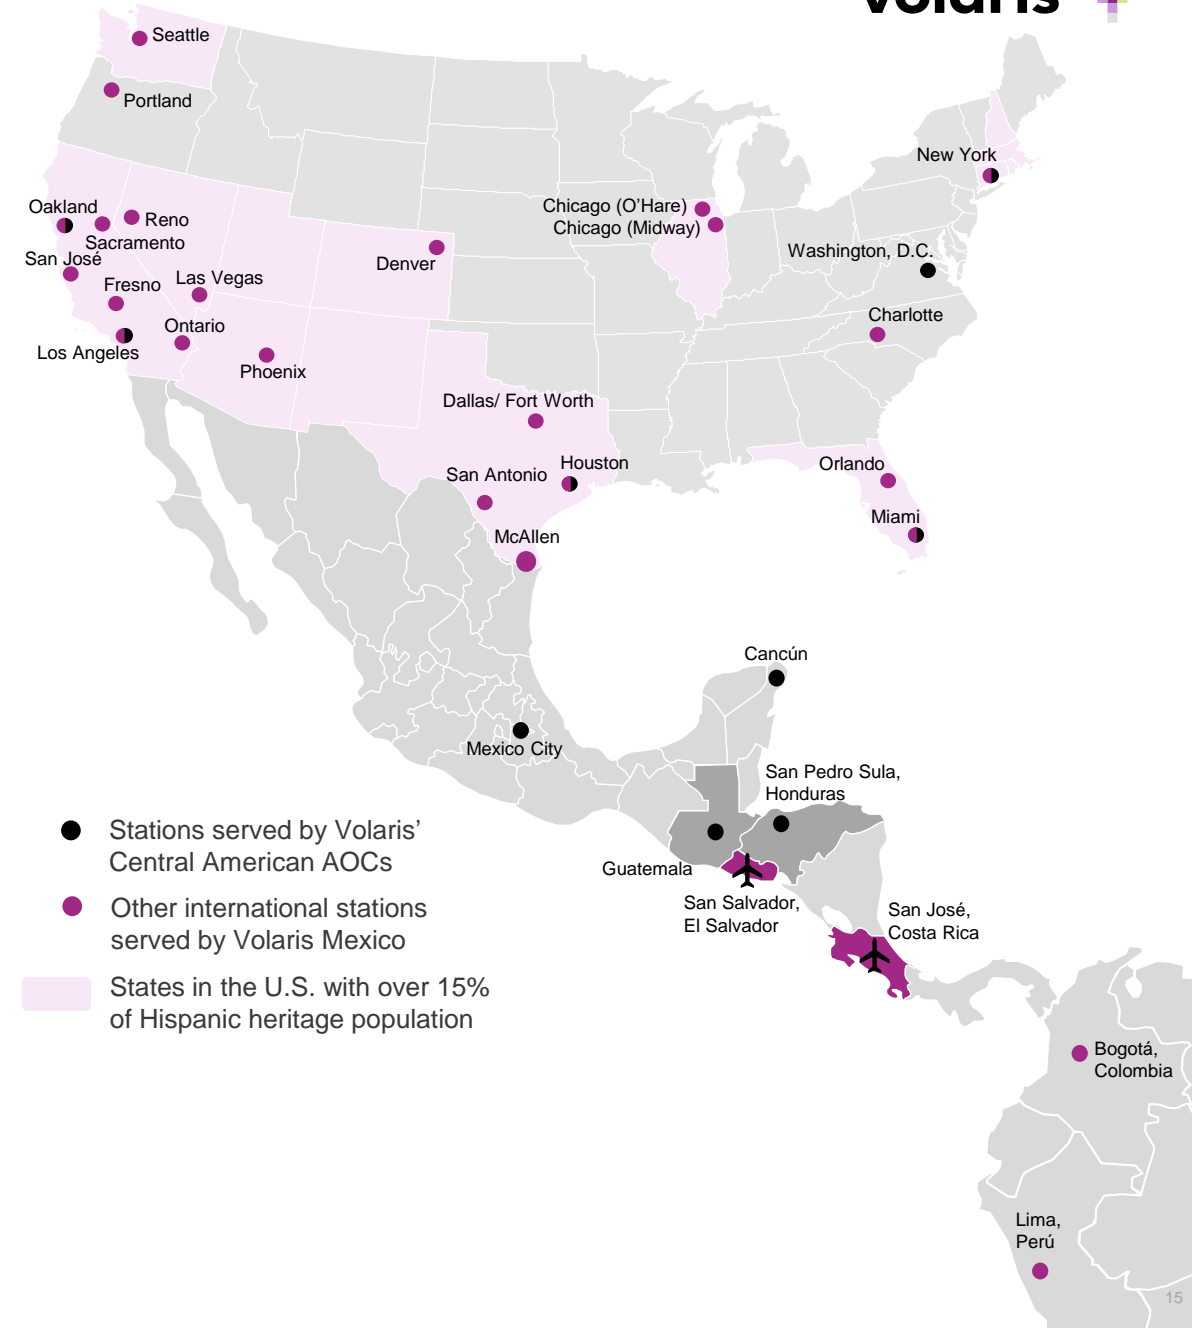

We view Central American operations as a natural extension of our core VFR franchise in Mexico.

- Young and fuel-efficient fleet
 - Among the youngest fleet in North America
 - 97% NEOs engines by 2030 ⁽²⁾ (fuel-efficient)
- Emissions reduction initiatives:
 - Fleet renewal with higher seat configuration and NEO technology upgrades
 - On-board weight reduction
 - Route and flight optimization
- Signed investment agreement to support the further development of sustainable aviation fuel (SAF) through startup “CleanJoule”
- Support the decarbonization of the aviation industry by 2050, as part of IATA’s Fly Net Zero initiative

2023 Integrated Annual Report

Social

- Prioritization of aviation security, operational safety and data protection
 - Zero aviation accidents or passenger fatalities and no breaches of our customers’ data
 - 11th consecutive year as a top member by ECPAT ⁽³⁾ for protecting children and adolescents from human trafficking
- Democratize aviation through our ULCC business model by offering affordable travel, contributing to economic growth
- Our Ambassadors - Volaris Family
 - Become the employer of choice: Attracting, developing, training and retaining the best talent
 - ✓ High engagement levels (95% in last survey)
 - ✓ Low voluntary turnover ratio (13%)
 - ✓ 6.1 hours of training per FTE
 - Diverse and engaged work environment, promoting gender diversity
 - ✓ 47% women Ambassadors
 - ✓ Adherence to IATA 25by2025 initiative, an industry gender equality commitment

Corporate Governance

- Sustainability and business strategy alignment
- Board of Directors and leadership team strategy oversight and pay alignment
 - No controlling group
 - Board of Directors is comprised of qualified members with multidisciplinary backgrounds
 - ✓ 69% of the Board members is independent
 - ✓ 15% of the Board members are women
- Rigorous reporting and compliance practices, commitment to transparency
 - Dual-listing: Mexican Stock Exchange and NYSE (ADR Level III),
 - GRI, SASB, <IR> Framework

Note: (1) The established target is being closely monitored. If Airbus continues delaying scheduled aircraft deliveries and/or the anticipated inspections of P&W’s NEO engines persist and face increased challenges, Volaris would need to revisit this goal. (2) This goal is contingent upon aircraft and engine manufacturers’ delivery schedules. (3) End Child Prostitution, Child Pornography, and Trafficking of Children for Sexual Purposes. All data as of 2023.
