Management Comments

I would like to start by thanking our crewmembers for all their hard work throughout 2024. The combination of a weakening Brazilian real, the floods in Rio Grande do Sul state, significant OEM and supply chain issues, and higher-than-expected fuel prices made for a very challenging year, and once again our strong culture proved as essential and unique as ever.

Despite these headwinds, we achieved our full-year guidance by delivering a record EBITDA of more than R$6.0 billion for the year, and we remain confident that the fundamentals of our business are working as expected. The year's results demonstrate the strength of our business model, overcoming challenges that were out of our control. This is a true testament to our incredible crewmembers, who delivered a world-class experience to our 30 million customers this year, each and every day. Once again, we clearly demonstrated our ability to continue increasing profitability despite higher currency.

We also delivered an all-time record revenue of R$19.5 billion in 2024, an increase of 4.4% over the same period last year, mainly driven by a healthy demand environment, robust revenues from our business units, and an increase in capacity. RASK and PRASK remained at high levels at R$42.18 cents and R$39.15 cents, respectively, demonstrating the strength of our business model. Capacity for the year grew 5.2%, supported by 8% domestic growth offset by a temporary reduction in our international network due to a transition in our widebody fleet.

Another important factor contributing to our healthy revenues and margins is our growth beyond the metal, i.e. our diversified business units. They continued their growth trajectories this year, contributing to our healthy revenues and margins. Our loyalty program Azul Fidelidade is now at more than 18 million members, with active users also at all-time highs. Gross billings for the program increased 27% versus 2023. Our vacations business Azul Viagens increased gross billings 63% year over year thanks to strong demand in leisure markets supported by our dedicated network. Finally, our cargo business remained strong, with continued recovery in international markets, where revenues increased almost 9% year over year.

We effectively managed our costs, with a 3.6% decrease in CASK in 2024 compared to 2023, mainly driven by the 7.6% reduction in fuel prices and our cost reduction initiatives and productivity gains to offset 7.8% year-over-year depreciation of the currency and almost 5% inflation over the last 12 months.

Immediate liquidity remained above R$3 billion, representing 16% of the last twelve months' revenues. Additionally, in January we announced the successful conclusion of our agreements with bondholders, lessors and OEMs, and the closing of the previously announced offering of US$525 million in Superpriority Notes due 2030. This comprehensive balance sheet restructuring included a broad financing plan, focused on improving liquidity and cash generation, and reducing leverage, with more than US$1.6 billion in debt being extinguished from the balance sheet, and improving our cash generation up to US$200 million per year.

By achieving these results, we have strengthened our balance sheet, and we can now turn our attention to executing our margin expansion plan and generating positive free cash flow, as we continue to add larger, next-generation aircraft to our fleet. These aircraft are more fuel-efficient, resulting in lower unit costs and improving revenue across our network.

The year's results demonstrate the strength and uniqueness of our business model, overcoming numerous challenges. Now that 2024 is behind us, I could not be more confident on our ability to build a better Azul with sustainable long-term competitive advantages.

Finally, I would like to thank our stakeholders for supporting our plan and once again believing in Azul and our team. Our best years are ahead of us.

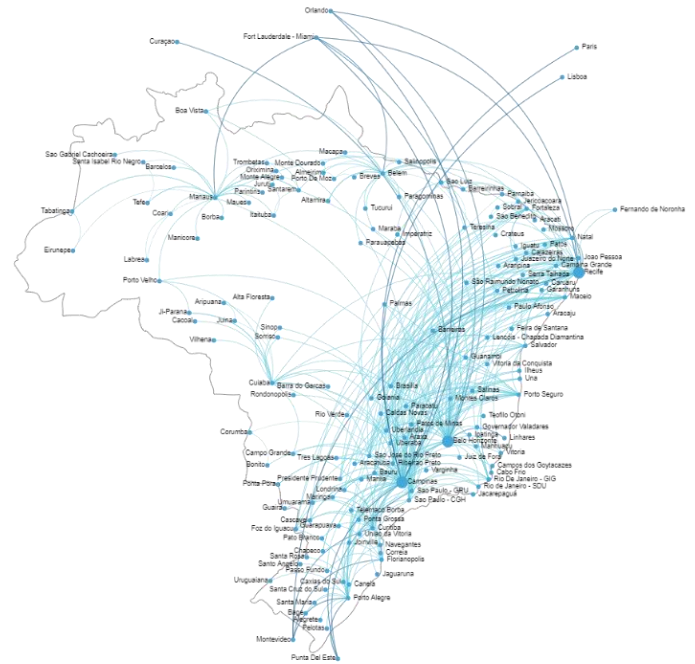

John Rodgerson, CEO of Azul S.A.

In 2024, Azul's total operating revenue increased R$832 million or 4.4%, reaching a record of R$19.5 billion. Passenger revenue increased 4.4% on 5.2% more capacity compared to the same period last year, boosted by strong demand in both domestic and international passenger demand and the outstanding performance of our other businesses.

Cargo revenue and other reached R$1.4 billion in 2024, 5.4% higher than 2023, mainly due to the business growth in the fourth quarter, by expanding our diversified customer base with even more retailers, manufacturers, and e-commerce operators in Brazil who value our reliable, far-reaching logistic solutions.

RASK and PRASK reached R$42.18 cents and R$39.15 cents, respectively, mainly due to the sustainable competitive advantages of our unique business model. Compared to 2023, RASK and PRASK remained flat.

Operating Expenses

In 2024, Azul recorded operating expenses of R$16.0 billion, compared to R$15.8 billion in 2023, representing an increase of 1.4%, mainly due to the capacity and revenue increase of 5.2% and 4.4%, respectively in addition to investments to growth and maximize fleet availability to benefit from the continued strong demand environment, offset by a 7.6% reduction in jet fuel price per liter and 7.8% average depreciation of the real against the dollar.

The breakdown of our main operating expenses compared to 2023 is as follows:

- Aircraft fuel decreased 5.2% to R$5,583.5 million, even with a 5.2% increase in total capacity, mostly due to a 7.6% reduction in fuel price per liter (excluding hedges) and a reduction in fuel burn per ASK as a result of the higher utilization of our next-generation fleet.
- Salaries and benefits increased 13.6%, mainly driven by our capacity increase of 5.2% in 2024, a 4.8% union increase in salaries as a result of collective bargaining agreements with unions applicable to all airline employees in Brazil, and the insourcing of certain activities as total cost reduction initiatives.
- Depreciation and amortization increased 10.8% or R$249.7 million, driven by the increase in the size of our fleet compared to 2024, as a result of the fleet transformation process.
- Airport fees increased 1.7% or R$17.9 million, mostly driven by the 5.2% increase in total capacity, partially offset by a reduction in fines related to the individual settlement agreement with the National Treasury Attorney's Office and the Special Secretariat of the Federal Revenue of Brazil.
- Traffic and customer servicing increased R$64.9 million, mostly due to the 5.4% increase in passengers, 1.6% increase in departures, in addition to 4.8% inflation in the period, partially offset by the reduction in onboard services.
- Sales and marketing increased 14.1%, or R$110.0 million, mostly driven by higher advertising campaigns and regional events, in addition to the 4.4% growth in our passenger revenue, leading to an increase in credit card fees and commissions.

- Maintenance and repairs increased R$103.0 million compared to 2024, mostly driven by a higher number of maintenance events to maximize aircraft availability and support 2024 growth and the 7.8% average depreciation of the real against the dollar, partially offset by savings from insourcing of maintenance events and renegotiations with suppliers.
- Other expenses reduced R$340.3 million, mainly driven by cost-reduction initiatives and lower number of judicial claims in the period, partially offset by the 7.8% depreciation of the Brazilian real against the US dollar.

Liquidity and Financing

Azul ended the year with R$3.1 billion in immediate liquidity, including cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable and short-term investments, R$35.9 million higher than the same period in 2023 even after paying more than R$9.2 billion in leases, loans, deferral repayments, maintenance reserves, interest and capital expenses. This immediate liquidity represents 15.7% of our LTM revenues.

Total liquidity including deposits, maintenance reserves, long-term investments and receivables was R$7.5 billion as of December 31, 2024.

Azul's debt amortization schedule as of December 31, 2024, is set out below. The chart converts our dollar-denominated debt to reais using the quarter-end foreign exchange rate of R$6.19 and does not consider the new debt and equitization from our recently announced transaction.

AZUL S.A.
Management report
December 31, 2024

Gross debt increased 45.3% or R$10,491.5 million compared to December 31, 2023, mostly due to the 26.4% end of period depreciation of the Brazilian real against the US dollar, which increased our dollar-denominated lease liabilities and loans in R$6.5 billion, in addition to the increase in our lease liabilities related to new aircraft entering our fleet in 2024 at R$2.7 billion, and roughly R$2.3 billion of net loans raised in 2024.

As of December 31, 2024, Azul's average debt maturity excluding lease liabilities and convertible debentures was 3.8 years, with an average interest rate of 11.3%. Average interest rate on local and dollar-denominated obligations were equivalent to CDI + 4% and 10.9%, respectively.

¹Considers the effect of hedges on debt, net of aircraft sublease receivables; excludes convertible debentures.

Azul's leverage ratio measured as net debt to LTM EBITDA was 4.9x, mainly due to the devaluation of the Brazilian real against the US dollar this year, which impacted our dollar-denominated debt. Considering foreign exchange rate at R$5.70 and adjusting the debt for aircraft that entered the fleet in 2024, leverage would have been 4.15x. Considering the pro-forma net debt from our recently announced transaction and foreign exchange rate at R$5.70, Azul's leverage ratio would have been 3.7x.

To the Management, Directors, and Shareholders of
Azul S.A.
Barueri – SP

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying individual and consolidated financial statements of Azul S.A. (the Company), identified as parent and consolidated, respectively, which comprise the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2024 and the respective statements of income, of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the year then ended, and the corresponding explanatory notes, including material accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the individual and consolidated financial position of Azul S.A. as of December 31, 2024, its individual and consolidated financial performance and individual and consolidated cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) (currently denominated IFRS Accounting Standards).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Brazilian and International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the "Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements" section of our report. We are independent of the Company and its subsidiaries in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements set forth in the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants and the professional standards issued by the Federal Accounting Council and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our judgment, were of most significance in our audit in the current year. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole and in forming our opinion on such individual and consolidated financial statements and, therefore, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Revenue from passenger transport (including breakage) (Explanatory Note nº 35)

Reason why the matter was considered a key audit matter

The Company recognizes passenger transportation revenue after the effective render of the transportation service, with sold and unflown flight segments recorded under "Air traffic liability and loyalty program", net of the estimated revenue from the expiration of unused tickets ("breakage"). Additionally, the ticket sales process and passenger transportation revenue recognition are highly dependent on information technology systems to systematically and accurately record transactions. However, these systems use assumptions and judgments in recognizing breakage revenue, which involves certain assumptions and judgments made by management, such as the expectation of unused ticket expiration, historical data, among others considered by management for revenue recognition. Therefore, this matter was considered a risk area in the current year and, thus, a key audit matter due to the high degree of judgment and uncertainties inherent in the process of determining assumptions and the relevance of the amounts involved.

How the matter was addressed in our audit

Our audit procedures included, among others:

- Understanding the automated IT internal controls used by management for recording and controlling passenger transportation revenue activities and estimating revenue from the expiration of unused tickets ("breakage");
- Performing analytical audit procedures using an automated audit tool called Audit Data Analytics (ADA) for passenger transportation revenues;
- On a sample basis, testing through observation procedures, passenger boarding, and verifying the recognition of the respective revenue for a sample of flights;
- Performing substantive tests, on a sample basis, to verify if revenue transactions were adequately supported and recognized;
- Challenging the assumptions determined by management for breakage calculation, with the assistance of our internal actuarial specialists, to verify the reasonableness of the model used by management and if there were any inconsistent assumptions and/or those that should be reviewed;
- Evaluating if the disclosures in the explanatory notes were consistent with the information and representations obtained from management.

Based on the evidence obtained and the audit procedures described above, we consider the procedures adopted by management for recognizing passenger transportation revenue (including breakage), as well as the respective disclosures, are reasonable in the context of the individual and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

Going Concern Assessment (Explanatory Notes Nos. 2 and 41)

Reason why the matter was considered a key audit matter

The individual and consolidated financial statements were prepared by management using the going concern assumption, based on the assumption that the Company is in operation and expects to continue operating for the foreseeable future, at least twelve months from the balance sheet date of the financial statements. This assumption assumes that management does not intend to liquidate the Company or cease its operations, having concluded that there is a reasonable expectation regarding the Company's going concern, supporting the preparation of the individual and consolidated financial statements using this assumption.

The Company incurred a loss of R$ 9,151,371 thousand during the year ended December 31, 2024, and at that date, it had negative equity, both individual and consolidated, amounting to R$ 30,435,270 thousand, as well as consolidated current liabilities exceeding consolidated current assets by R$ 15,684,277 thousand at that date. The actions and measures in progress by the Company's management, described in the explanatory notes, include measures already implemented and ongoing to maintain going concern. The calculations supporting the assumptions of expected profitability and cash flow require management to make judgments with a high degree of subjectivity. Therefore, due to the degree of judgment involved in preparing cash flow projections and evaluating the use of the going concern assumption by the Company's management in preparing the individual and consolidated financial statements, we considered this a significant matter for our audit.

How the matter was addressed in our audit

Our audit procedures included, among others:

- Analyzing the Company's and its subsidiaries' ability to continue operating in the foreseeable future based on existing factual information and data provided by management;
- Reviewing the methodology and assumptions used by management in the going concern study for the next twelve months from the balance sheet date of the individual and consolidated financial statements and respective cash flows, including the evaluation of relevant subsequent effects up to the issuance date of the aforementioned financial statements;
- With the assistance of our internal corporate finance specialists, evaluating the assumptions used by the Company's management in determining cash flow projections, considering the realized results, as well as the consistency of the projections compared to the actual results for the past periods;
- Analyzing ongoing restructurings to reduce costs, as well as expected profitability in the foreseeable future to support operations;
- Reviewing the debt negotiation schedule and future financing sources; and
- Evaluating if the respective disclosures presented by the Company's management were adequate.

Based on the procedures performed, we consider the judgments exercised and assumptions adopted by the Company's management in evaluating the going concern assumption, as well as the respective disclosures provided, to be reasonable in the context of the individual and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

Other matters

Statements of value added

The individual and consolidated statements of value added (DVA) for the year ended December 31, 2024, prepared under the responsibility of the Company's management and presented as supplemental information for IFRS purposes, have been subject to auditing procedures which were performed together with the audit of the Company's financial statements. In forming our opinion, we evaluated if these statements are reconciled to the financial statements and accounting records, as applicable, and if their form and content are in accordance with the criteria defined in NBC TG 09 – Statement of Value Added. In our opinion, these statements of value added were appropriately prepared, in all material respects, according to the criteria defined in said technical pronouncement and are consistent in relation to the individual and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

Audit of the corresponding values for the comparative year

The audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements of the Company as of December 31, 2023, which corresponding values are presented for comparison purposes, was conducted under the responsibility of another independent auditor, who issued an unmodified audit report on April 12, 2024.

Other information accompanying the individual and consolidated financial statements and auditor's report thereon

The Company's Management is responsible for this other information that is included in the Management Report.

Our opinion on the individual and consolidated financial statements does not cover the Management Report and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the Management Report and, in doing so, consider whether this report is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise, appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement in the Management Report, we are required to report this fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and those charged with governance for the individual and consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the individual and consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) (currently denominated IFRS Accounting Standards), and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the individual and consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the financial statements, unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with the Company's and its subsidiaries' governance are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibility for the audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the individual and consolidated financial statements, taken as a whole, are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Brazilian and International Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Brazilian and International Standards on Auditing, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the individual and consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve override of internal control, collusion, forgery, intentional omissions or misrepresentations;
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's and its subsidiaries' internal controls;
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management;
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the individual and consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern;
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the individual and consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation; and
- Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial statements of the entities or business activities within the group to express an opinion on the individual and consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the group audit and, consequently, for the audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we may have identified during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements, including those regarding independence, and communicate to them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and, where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determined those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements for the current year and are, therefore, the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our audit report, unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

1.2 Seasonality

The Company's operating revenues depend substantially on the general volume of passenger and cargo traffic, which is subject to seasonal changes. Our passenger revenues are generally higher during the summer and winter holidays, in January and July respectively, and in the last two weeks of December, which corresponds to the holiday season. Considering the distribution of fixed costs, this seasonality tends to cause variations in operating results between periods of the fiscal year.

2. GOING CONCERN

2.1 Management Statement

The Company's individual and consolidated financial statements were prepared on going concern basis, which assumes that the Company will be able to fulfill its payment obligations in accordance with contracted maturities, which is confirmed by a positive trend in generating operating cash flows.

On performing the Company's going concern assessment, management considered the financial position and results of operations up to December 31, 2024, as well as other foreseen or occurred events up to the date of issuance of these individual and consolidated financial statements.

Management understands that even with the existence of a certain degree of uncertainty regarding the Company's ability to fulfill its obligations, the renegotiations carried out between the Company and its creditors, including lessors and other suppliers, as disclosed in notes 20, 21 and 41, corroborate Management's assessment of the Company's reasonable expectation of having sufficient resources to continue operating in the foreseeable future.

Additionally, Management's conclusion is based on the Company's business plan approved by the Board of Directors in December 2024 and the entire debt restructuring process described in these individual and consolidated financial statements. The Company's business plan includes future actions, macroeconomic and aviation sector assumptions, such as the level of demand for air transport with corresponding increase in fees and estimated exchange rates and fuel prices.

Management confirms that all relevant information specific to the individual and consolidated financial statements is being disclosed and corresponds to that used by it in the development of its business management activities.

2.2 Extreme weather event

During the quarter ended June 30, 2024, there was an extreme weather event with heavy rains in the central region of the State of Rio Grande do Sul in Brazil, making it impossible to provide air services due to flooding and the consequent closure of Salgado Filho Airport in Porto Alegre, the main airport in the region. The Company dedicated humanitarian efforts with the aim of supporting actions carried out by local authorities who acted in response to the emergency with the affected population. In order to face this scenario, the Company began to monitor and establish operational and financial strategies to get through this period until the resumption of operations, increasing flights to nearby cities, in order to serve affected passengers.

Since October 2024, air services gradually resumed at Salgado Filho international airport.

2.3 Tax transaction

In 2024, the Company signed an individual settlement agreement with the Attorney General's Office ("AGU"), through the Attorney General's Office of the National Treasury ("PGFN") and the Special Secretariat of the Federal Revenue of Brazil ("RFB"), for the regularization of tax debts.

The total amount of the renegotiated debts is approximately R$2.9 billion, of which more than R$1.8 billion will be deducted with the use of tax losses and effective reductions of interest, fines and charges, with the remaining balance, paid within 60 months for social security debts and 120 months for other debts.

As collateral, the Company offers: airport slots, media spaces on aircraft and other proprietary vehicles, current contracts with different government agencies, in addition aircraft parts and engines in second-degree.

Adherence to the tax transaction brought economic benefits to the Company, such as reductions in litigation, interest, fines, charges and the use of tax losses.

Due to the ongoing consolidation of the tax transaction, these amounts will change over the next few periods.

2.4 Net working capital and capital structure

As of December 31, 2024, the Company's working capital and liquid equity position are as shown below:

Description	December 31, 2024	December 31, 2023	Variation
Net working capital	(15,684,277)	(9,704,733)	(5,979,544)
Equity	(30,435,270)	(21,327,848)	(9,107,422)

The negative variation in the balance of net working capital is mainly due to the increase in liabilities in foreign currency, due to the 27,9% devaluation of the real against the US dollar and the postponement of accounts payable and leases payments.

The negative variation of equity is mainly due to the Company's negative financial result, which exceeds by R$9,190,174 the operating profit due to the foreign currency exchange mentioned above and interest on leases, loans and financing.

3. BASIS OF PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION OF THE INDIVIDUAL AND CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company's individual and consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil and the International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"). The accounting practices adopted in Brazil include those included in the Brazilian corporation law and the technical pronouncements, guidelines and interpretations issued by the Accounting Pronouncements Committee ("CPC"), approved by the Federal Accounting Council ("CFC") and the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission ("CVM").

The Company's individual and consolidated financial statements have been prepared based on the real ("R$") as a functional and presentation currency. All currencies shown are expressed in thousands unless otherwise noted.

The Company operates mainly through its aircraft and other assets that support flight operations, making up its cash generating unit (CGU) and its only reportable segment: air transport.

The preparation of the Company's individual and consolidated financial statements requires Management to make judgments, use estimates and adopt assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. However, the uncertainty related to these judgments, assumptions and estimates can lead to results that require a significant adjustment to the carrying amount of assets, liabilities, income and expenses in future years.

When preparing these individual and consolidated financial statements of the Company, Management used the following disclosure criteria to understand the changes observed in the equity and in its performance, since the end of the last fiscal year ended December 31, 2023, disclosed on April 12, 2024: (i) regulatory requirements; (ii) relevance and specificity of the information; (iii) informational needs of users of the individual and consolidated financial statements; and (iv) information from other entities participating in the passenger air transport market.

As a consequence of the improvements made to the presentation of some items in the statements of cash flows and costs and expenses by nature, the following reclassifications were carried out to ensure comparability of balances from the previous year:

Statements of Cash Flows	Consolidated
	December 31, 2023
	As reported	Reclassifications	Reclassified
Changes in operating assets and liabilities
Advances to suppliers	(2,888,463)	2,888,463	-
Accounts payable	2,795,585	(2,888,463)	(92,878)
Total	(92.878)	-	(92.878)

The individual and consolidated financial statements have been prepared based on the historical cost, except for the items significant:

3.1 Approval and authorization for issue of the individual and consolidated financial statements

The approval and authorization for issue of these individual and consolidated financial statements occurred at the Board of Directors' meeting held on February 24, 2025.

4. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND PRACTICES

The material accounting policies and practices adopted by the Company are described in each corresponding note, except those that refer to more than one note, described below. The accounting policies have been consistently applied for the comparative years presented and for the Company's individual and consolidated financial statements.

4.1 Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include information about the Company and its subsidiaries in which it held direct or indirect control. Control of a subsidiary is achieved when the Company is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns in such subsidiaries and has the power to influence the investee's operating and financial decisions.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries have been prepared using the same accounting policies as the Company.

All assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses related to transactions between related parties are eliminated in full in the consolidation process.

4.2 Impairment

An annual review for impairment indicators to assess events or changes in economic, technological, or operating conditions that may indicate that an asset is impaired.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the higher of its fair value, less costs to sell and its value in use. When the carrying amount of an asset or cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, a provision for impairment is set up by adjusting the carrying amount.

The previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount. The reversal is limited, so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor does it exceed the carrying amount previously determined, net of depreciation or amortization.

AZUL S.A.

Notes

December 31, 2024

(In thousands of Brazilian reais – R$, unless otherwise indicated)

In estimating the asset's value in use, estimated future cash flows are discounted to present value, using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the weighted average cost of capital for the cash-generating unit.

4.3 Statement of value added (“SVA”)

Its purpose is to evidence the wealth generated by the Company and its distribution during a given year, and is presented by the Company as required by Brazilian corporate law as part of its individual financial statements and as supplementary information to the consolidated financial statements, as it is not an expected or mandatory statement according to IFRS standards, being prepared based on information obtained from the accounting records following the provisions contained in CPC 09 - Statement of value added.

4.4 Main accounting estimates

As disclosed in note 3, Management makes judgments that have a significant effect on the amounts recognized in the individual and consolidated financial statements, namely:

Description	Note
Provision expected loss with accounts receivable	8
Provision expected loss with inventories	10
Provision for losses with maintenance reserves	11
Provision expected loss taxes withheld	12
Provision expected loss advances to suppliers	13
Impairment of property and equipment	17

Revenue from ticket breakage and loyalty programs	27
Provision for return of aircraft and engines	30.1.1
Provision for tax, civil and labor risks	30.1.2
Provision for post-employment benefit	30.1.3

The Company continually reviews the assumptions used in its accounting estimates. The effect of revisions on accounting estimates is recognized in the financial statements in the year in which such revisions are made.

7. SHORT AND LONG-TERM INVESTMENTS

7.1 Accounting policies

In the presentation and measurement of the financial investments, the Company considers the provisions of CPC 48 - Financial Instruments, equivalent to IFRS 9, which determines that financial assets should be initially measured at fair value less costs directly attributable to their acquisition. In turn, the subsequent measurement is divided into two categories:

7.1.1 Amortized cost

Long-term investments are measured at amortized cost when all the following conditions are met:

- The Company plans to hold the financial assets to collect cash flows set forth in contract;
- Contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest (“SPPI”); and
- The Company did not opt for the fair value methodology to eliminate measurement inconsistencies or an “accounting mismatch”.

7.1.2 Fair value

- Through comprehensive income: short and long-term investments shall be measured at fair value through comprehensive income when both of the following conditions are met:
 - (i) the Company plans to hold the financial asset to collect cash flows set forth in contract and sell the asset; and
 - (ii) contractual cash flows represent SPPI.

AZUL S.A.

Notes

December 31, 2024

(In thousands of Brazilian reais – R$, unless otherwise indicated)

- Through profit or loss: it is a residual category, in other words, the Company does not plan to hold the financial asset to collect cash flows set forth in contract and/or sell the asset, it shall be measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial instruments designated at fair value through profit or loss are used to eliminate or significantly reduce an accounting mismatch and are therefore measured at fair value.

7.2 TAP Bond

On March 14, 2016, the Company acquired series A convertible debt issued by TAP (“TAP Bond”) in the amount of €90 million. The TAP Bond has a maturity of 10 years from its issuance, with annual interest of 3.75% until September 20, 2016, and 7.5% in subsequent years. The accrued interest will be paid on the maturity date or early redemption of the securities, whichever occurs first.

TAP Bond is being measured at fair value through profit or loss.

8. ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE

8.1 Accounting policies

Accounts receivables are measured based on the invoiced amount, net of the provision for losses, and approximate the fair value given their short-term nature.

Considering the requirements of CPC 48 - Financial Instruments, equivalent to IFRS 9, the provision for losses on receivables are measured by applying the simplified approach, through the use of historical data, projecting the expected loss over the life of the contract, by segmenting the receivables portfolio into groups that have the same pattern of collection and according to the respective maturities. Additionally, for certain cases, the Company carries out individual analyses to assess the risks of collecting the receivables to recognize an additional provision, if necessary.

In Brazil, credit card receivables are not exposed to credit risk of the cardholder. The balances can easily be converted into cash, when necessary, through advance payment with credit card companies.

During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company anticipated the receipt of R$11,398,429 in accounts receivable from credit card administrators, without right of return, with an average cost of 0.9% p.m. on the anticipated amount. 9. AIRCRAFT SUBLEASE

9.1 Accounting policies

The aircraft subleases are transactions whereby the lessee, in this case the Company, subleases an asset that is leased from a third party, thus becoming an intermediate lessor. CPC 06 (R2) – Leases, equivalent to IFRS 16, requires an intermediate lessor to classify the sublease as finance or operating.

Considering that the contracts entered by the Company covered most of the term of the head lease, the subleases were accounted for as follows:

- Derecognition of the right-of-use asset related to the head lease and recognition of the receivables arising from the sublease contracts at present value;
- Recognition in profit or loss for the year of any difference between the right of use written off and the receivables arising from the sublease contract at present value;
- Maintenance of the lease obligations of the host contract in the statement of financial position;

AZUL S.A.

Inventory balances mainly comprise parts and materials for maintenance. Inventories are measured at average acquisition cost plus expenses such as non-recoverable taxes, customs expenses, and transportation expenses. Expenses with freight transfers between operational bases are not capitalized. Provisions for obsolescence of inventories are recorded for items not expected to be realized.

11. DEPOSITS

11.1 Accounting policies

11.1.1 Security deposits

Security deposits are represented by amounts deposited by the Company, mostly to the lessors of aircraft and engines, as guarantee for the fulfillment of the lease contract. Security deposits do not bear interest and are reimbursable at the end of the contracts. Judicial deposits are also classified in this group.

11.1.2 Maintenance reserves

Certain master lease agreements provide for the payment of aircraft and engine maintenance reserves made to be held as collateral for the performance of major maintenance activities, and therefore these deposits are reimbursable upon completion of the maintenance event in an amount equal to or less than:

- the amount of the maintenance reserve held by the lessor associated with the specific maintenance event; or
- the costs related to the specific maintenance event.

Substantially all these maintenance reserve payments are calculated based on an aircraft utilization measure, such as flight hours or cycles.

As of the date of these individual and consolidated financial statements, we assess whether the maintenance reserve deposits required by the master lease agreements are expected to be recovered through reimbursement of future expenses with carrying out with the performance of qualifying maintenance on the leased assets. Maintenance deposits expected to be recovered are held in assets, and the amounts identified as non-recoverable are readily transferred to statement of operations.

Aircraft and engine maintenance reserves are classified as current or non-current depending on the dates on which the amounts are expected to be recovered.

15. INCOME TAX AND CONTRIBUTION

15.1 Accounting policies

15.1.1 Current taxes

In Brazil, current taxes comprise corporate income tax (“IRPJ”) and social contribution on profit (“CSLL”), which are calculated monthly based on taxable profit, after offsetting tax losses and negative basis social contribution, limited to 30% of real profit. A rate of 15% plus an additional 10% for IRPJ and 9% for CSLL applies to this base.

AZUL S.A.

Notes

December 31, 2024

(In thousands of Brazilian reais – R$, unless otherwise indicated)

The result from foreign subsidiaries is subject to taxation in accordance with the rates and legislation in force. In Brazil such income is taxed in accordance with Law No. 12,973/14, in which it provides that the parent company, directly or indirectly, of a company abroad adds the results of its subsidiaries when calculating the real profit for the period.

15.1.2 Deferred taxes

Deferred taxes represent credits and debits on tax loss carryforwards, as well as temporary differences between the tax and accounting bases. Deferred tax and contribution assets and liabilities are classified as non-current. When the Company's internal studies indicate that the future use of these credits is not likely, such values are promptly transferred to the result.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are presented net if there is a legally enforceable right to set off tax liabilities against tax assets, and if they are related to taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity; therefore, for presentation purposes, balances of tax assets and liabilities which do not meet the legal criteria for realization are disclosed separately. Deferred tax assets and liabilities shall be measured at the rates that are expected to be applicable in the period in which the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on the tax rates and legislation in force at the reporting date. The projections for future taxable profits on tax loss carryforwards are prepared based on the business plans and are reviewed and approved annually by the Board of Directors.

15.1.3 Uncertainty over income tax treatments

On January 1, 2019, the accounting standard ICPC 22 – Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments, equivalent to IFRIC 23, became effective, addressing the application of recognition and measurement requirements when there is uncertainty over income tax treatments.

The Company analyzes the relevant tax decisions of higher courts and whether they conflict in any way with the positions adopted. For known uncertain tax positions, when necessary, the Company establishes a provision based on the legal opinions issued by its legal advisors. The Company evaluates continuously the positions taken in which there are uncertainties about the tax treatment adopted.

17. PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

17.1 Accounting policies

Property and equipment are stated at acquisition cost.

Depreciation is calculated according to the estimated economic useful life of each assets using the straight-line method. The estimates and depreciation methods are reviewed annually, and the effects of any changes are accounted for prospectively.

When there are indications of assets recorded with values that exceed their recovery values, the Company must estimate the recoverable value of the asset.

An item of property and equipment is derecognized upon its disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from the use of the asset. Any gains or losses arising on the sale or derecognition of an item are determined by the difference between the amount received on the sale and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in statements of operation.

The Company receives credit from manufacturers when purchasing certain aircraft and engines, which can be used to pay for maintenance services. These credits are recorded as a reduction in the acquisition cost of aircraft and related engines.

17.1.1 Sales and leaseback transactions

First, sale and leaseback transactions are analyzed within the scope of CPC 47– Revenue from Contracts with Customers, equivalent to IFRS 15, in order to verify whether the performance obligation has been satisfied, and therefore to account for the sale of the asset. If this requirement is not met, it is financing with the asset given as guarantee.

If the requirements related to the performance obligation set out are met, the Company measures a right-of-use asset arising from the sale and leaseback transaction in proportion to the carrying amount of the asset related to the right of use retained by the Company. Accordingly, only the gains or losses related to the rights transferred to the buyer-lessor are recognized.

Notes

December 31, 2024

(In thousands of Brazilian reais – R$, unless otherwise indicated)

During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company carried out “sale and leaseback” transactions of three engines and two aircraft, where the revenue, net of sales costs, corresponds to a gain of R$91,613 (loss of R$6,356 on December 31, 2023) being recognized under the heading “Other costs of services provided”.

17.1.2 Advance payments for acquisition of aircraft

Prepayments for the acquisition of aircraft during the manufacturing phase are recorded in fixed assets and are recognized when such amounts are paid.

18. RIGHT-OF-USE ASSETS

18.1 Accounting policies

CPC 06 (R2) – Leases, equivalent to IFRS 16, establishes the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leasing operations and requires lessees at the start date of the contract to recognize a lease liability to make payments and an asset representing the right to use the underlying asset during the lease term ("ROU"). Lessees must separately recognize interest expenses on the lease liability and the depreciation expense of the right-of-use asset in the statements of operation.

Lessees are also required to reassess the lease liability in the event of certain events, for example, change in the lease term, or a change in future lease payment flows as a result of a change in an index or rate used to determine such payments. In general, the lessee must recognize the remeasurement amount of the lease liability as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset.

Considering the dollar-denominated environment in which the Company raises funds, in determining the discount, the Azul used as a basis the funding rates for loans and financing in foreign currency on the start and/or modification dates of the lease agreements.

Notes

December 31, 2024

(In thousands of Brazilian reais – R$, unless otherwise indicated)

18.1.1 Componentization of aircraft

At the receipt and initial recognition of right-of-use assets, the Company allocates the total cost of the aircraft between five major components: airframe, auxiliary power unit (“APU”), or propeller landing gear and two engines. The useful life of each component is limited to the final term of the contract/and or the estimated useful life of the asset component, the smaller of the two.

18.1.2 Capitalization of heavy maintenance events

Heavy maintenance events that increase the useful life of assets are capitalized. Such contracts are usually of the “power-by-the-hour” type, in which the amounts owed to maintenance providers are calculated based on the flight hours and cycles.

Subsequently, they are depreciated during the period of use considering the shorter period between the next scheduled maintenance or the end of the lease of the two. Repairs and other routine maintenance are appropriate to the results during the year in which they are incurred.

18.1.3 Recognition of contractual obligations relating to return of aircraft

The costs resulting from the maintenance events that will be carried out to return of the aircraft to the lessors are recognized at present value, increasing the value of the asset as a balancing item to an obligation, if they can be reasonably estimated. Assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the lease contract term, while liabilities are updated by interest rates and exchange effects.

19. INTANGIBLE ASSETS

19.1 Accounting policies

19.1.1 Finite useful life

Intangible assets acquired are measured at cost at the time of their initial recognition. After initial recognition, intangible assets with finite useful lives, generally software, are stated at cost, less accumulated amortization, and accumulated impairment losses, where applicable. Intangible assets generated internally, excluding development costs, are not capitalized and the expense is reflected in the statements of operations for the year when it was incurred.

19.1.2 Indefinite useful life

19.1.2.1 Goodwill

This category records the values corresponding to the goodwill arising from the business combinations of IntelAzul and Conecta. The goodwill value is tested annually by comparing the carrying value of the CGU with the value in use. Management makes judgments and establishes assumptions to assess the impact of macroeconomic and operational changes, to estimate future cash flows and measure the recoverable value of assets.

19.1.2.2 Rights of operations in airports (slots)

In the business combination of IntelAzul and Conecta, slots were acquired that were recognized at their fair values on the acquisition date and are not amortized. The estimated useful life of these rights was considered indefinite due to several factors and considerations, including applications and authorizations for permission to operate in Brazil and limited availability of operating rights at the most important airports in terms of air traffic volume. The value of slots is tested annually by comparing the book value with the value in use.

19.3 Impairment of intangible assets without a finite useful life

On December 31, 2024, the Company carried out annual recoverability tests of the book value, through the discounted cash flow of the cash generating unit.

AZUL S.A.

Notes

December 31, 2024

(In thousands of Brazilian reais – R$, unless otherwise indicated)

The assumptions used in the impairment tests of goodwill and slots are consistent with the Company's operating plans and internal projections, prepared for a period of five years. After this period, a perpetuity rate of growth of operating projections is assumed. The discounted cash flow that determined the value in use of the cash-generating unit was prepared according to the Company's business plan approved by the Board of Directors in December 2024.

The following assumptions were considered:

- Fleet and capacity: plan for operational fleet, utilization and capacity of aircraft in each route;
- Passenger revenue: historical revenue per seat per kilometer flown with growth in line with the Company's business plan;
- Operating costs: specific performance indicators by cost line, in line with the Company's business plan, as well as macroeconomic assumptions; and
- Investment needs: aligned with the Company's business plan.

The macroeconomic assumptions commonly adopted include the Gross Domestic Product ("GDP") and projections of the US dollar, both obtained from the Focus Report issued by the Central Bank of Brazil, in addition to future kerosene barrel prices and interest rates, obtained from specific Bloomberg disclosures.

The result of the goodwill and slots impairment test demonstrated that the estimated recoverable value is significantly greater than the carrying value allocated to the cash generating unit and, therefore, no adjustment to the recoverable value to be recorded during the year ended December 31, 2024, was identified. To calculate recoverable value, a pre-tax discount rate of 12.4% (11.4% as of December 31, 2023) and a growth rate in perpetuity of 4.8% (3.0% as of December 31, 2023).

20. LOANS AND FINANCING

20.1 Accounting policies

Loans and financing are initially recognized at fair value, less any directly attributable transaction costs. After initial recognition, these financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

27. AIR TRAFFIC LIABILITY AND LOYALTY PROGRAM

27.1 Accounting policies

Air traffic liability and loyalty program line comprises the Company's obligations for the early receipt of air transport services and other auxiliary services related to the main obligation with its customers. They are accounted for at the amount of the transaction and as they are non-monetary items they are not subject to exchange differences or monetary adjustment of any nature. These obligations are extinguished with the provision of the transport services against operating income in the statements of operations for the year.

The breakage revenue consists of the calculation based on the historical issuance of tickets that will expire due to non-use, that is, passengers who purchased tickets and are highly likely not to use them. For the purpose of recognizing this revenue, the average periods for providing air transport services are also considered, and these assumptions are included in a statistical model that determines the forecast breakage rate to be adopted. At least annually, the calculations are reviewed to reflect and capture changes in customer behavior regarding ticket expiration.

In the loyalty program, the Company estimates the points that will expire without being used historical data and recognizes the corresponding revenue upon point issuance (breakage) considering the average exchange term.

30.1 Accounting policies

30.1.1 Provision for return of aircraft and engines

Aircraft and engines negotiated under lease without purchase options regularly provide for contractual obligations establishing conditions for the return of these assets.

AZUL S.A.

Notes

December 31, 2024

(In thousands of Brazilian reais – R$, unless otherwise indicated)

These expenses basically refer to aircraft reconfiguration (interior and exterior), obtaining licenses and technical certifications, verifications of returns, maintenance, painting, etc., as established in the contract. The cost of return is initially recognized at present value as part of the cost of right-of-use assets, and the provision for aircraft return costs is recorded in the “Provisions” account. After initial recognition, the liability is updated according to the capital remuneration rate estimated by the Company, with a corresponding entry recorded in the financial result. Any changes in the estimate of expenses to be incurred are recognized prospectively against the right of use asset or in the statement of operations for the year if the right-of-use balance is insufficient.

30.1.2 Tax, civil and labor risks

The Company is a party to several legal and administrative proceedings, mainly in Brazil. Assessments of the likelihood of loss in these cases include an analysis of the available evidence, the hierarchy of laws, the available case laws, the most recent court decisions and their significance in the legal system, as well as the assessment of lawyers.

Provisions are revised and adjusted to reflect changes in circumstances, such as the applicable statute of limitations, conclusions of tax inspections or additional exposures identified based on new matters or court decisions.

The Company’s Management believes that the provision for tax, civil and labor risks is sufficient to cover any losses on legal and administrative.

30.1.3 Post-employment benefits

The Company recognizes actuarial liabilities related to health insurance benefits offered to its employees in accordance with CPC 33 (R1) – Employee Benefits, equivalent to IAS 19. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized in other comprehensive income based on the actuarial report prepared by independent experts, while the current service cost and interest cost are recognized in statement of operations for the year.

33. EARNINGS (LOSS) PER SHARE

33.1 Accounting policies

The basic result per share is calculated by dividing the net income for the year attributed to the Company's controlling shareholders by the weighted average number of all classes of shares in circulation, except treasury shares, during the year.

Diluted earnings (loss) per share are calculated adjusting the weighted average number of shares outstanding, except those in treasury shares, by instruments potentially convertible into shares. However, due to the losses reported in the years ended December 31, 2024, and 2023, these instruments issued by the company have a non-dilutive effect and therefore were not considered in the total number of shares outstanding to determine the diluted loss per share.

Although there are differences between common and preferred shares as to voting and preemptive rights in the event of liquidation, the Company's preferred shares do not grant the right to receive fixed dividends. Preferred shares have economic power and the right to receive dividends 75 times greater than common shares. Accordingly, the Company considers that the economic power of preferred shares is greater than that of common shares. Therefore, the profit or loss for the year attributable to the controlling shareholders is allocated proportionally in relation to the total economic participation of the amount of common and preferred shares.

34. SHARE-BASED PAYMENT

34.1 Accounting policies

The Company offers executives share-based compensation plans to be settled with Company shares or cash, according to which the Company receives services as consideration.

The cost of instruments is measured based on fair value on the date they were granted or on the date of these financial statements for phantom shares. To determine the fair value of purchase options, the Company uses the Black-Scholes model.

The cost of transactions settled with equity securities is recognized in profit or loss under “Salaries and Benefits”, together with corresponding increase in the “Capital reserve” or “Salaries and social charges” liability for phantom shares, over the period in which performance and/or service condition are met, ending on the date on which the employee acquires full right to the award (vesting date) or settlement and cancellation for phantom shares. The outstanding liability is revalued at fair value on the date of this financial statement.

35. SALES REVENUE

35.1 Accounting policies

35.1.1 Revenue from passenger transport and loyalty program

Revenue from passenger transport is recognized when air transportation is actually provided. Tickets sold, but not yet used are recorded as “Air traffic liability and loyalty program” account, net of breakage revenue estimate (note 27).

Other revenues that include charter flights, rescheduling fees, baggage dispatch and other additional services are recognized along with the primary passenger transport obligation passengers.

In the loyalty program, customers accumulate points based on the amount spent on air transportation and in accordance with the partners' rules. The number of points depends on the customer's category in the loyalty program, market, fare class and other factors including promotional campaigns.

After the sale of a ticket, the Company recognizes a portion of ticket sales as revenue when the transportation service occurs and defers the portion corresponding to loyalty program points in accordance with CPC 47 – Customer Contract Revenue, equivalent to IFRS 15.

The Company determines the estimated selling price of the air transportation and points as if each element had been sold on a separate basis and was therefore based on the stand-alone selling price.

The Company also sells loyalty program points to customers and partners, including credit card companies, financial institutions and retail companies. The related revenue is deferred and recognized when points are redeemed, based on the weighted average price of points sold.

Points not used are recorded under “Air traffic liability and loyalty program”, until their effective use or expiration.

Other revenues

Other revenues mainly include the transportation of cargo and travel packages and are recognized when performance obligations are met.

AZUL S.A.

Notes

December 31, 2024

(In thousands of Brazilian reais – R$, unless otherwise indicated)

The risks are monitored by the Company's management and can be mitigated through the use of swaps, terms and options.

All activities with derivative financial instruments for risk management are carried out by specialists with experience and adequate supervision. It is the Company's policy not to operate transactions for speculative purposes.

38.2 Fair value hierarchy of financial instruments

The following hierarchy is used to determine the fair value of financial instruments:

Level 1: quoted prices, without adjustment, in active markets for identical assets and liabilities;

Level 2: other techniques for which all inputs that have a significant effect on the fair value recorded are directly or indirectly observable; and

Level 3: techniques that use data that have a significant effect on the fair value recorded that are not based on observable market data.

The fair value hierarchy of the Company's consolidated financial instruments, as well as the comparison between book value and fair value, are identified below:

38.4 Credit risk

Credit risk is inherent to the Company's operating and financial activities, mainly disclosed in cash and cash equivalents, long-term investments, accounts receivable, security deposits and maintenance reserves. The TAP Bond is guaranteed by intellectual property rights and credits related to the TAP mileage program.

Credit limits are established for all customers based on internal classification criteria and the carrying amounts represent the maximum credit risk exposure. Outstanding receivables from customers are frequently monitored by the Company and, when necessary, allowances for expected credit losses are recognized.

Derivative financial instruments are contracted on the over the counter (OTC) market with counterparties that maintain a relationship and can be contracted on commodity and futures exchanges (B3 and NYMEX), which mitigate and contributes to credit risk.

The Company assesses the risks of counterparties in financial instruments and diversifies exposure periodically.

38.5 Liquidity risk

The maturity schedules of the Company's consolidated financial liabilities as of December 31, 2024 are as follows:

41.2 Restructuring

In January 2025, the Company completed the restructuring of its obligations with substantially all bondholders, lessors and OEMs, and the closing of offering of Superpriority Notes ("Superpriority Notes") issued by Azul Secured Finance LLP, together with exchange offers.

The comprehensive restructuring and recapitalization included a structured financing plan, focused on improving liquidity and cash generation, and reducing leverage, with almost US$1.6 billion in debt, with an additional US$525 million principal amount of capital raised, as summarized below:

41.2.1 Restructuring with Lessors, OEMs and Other Suppliers

The restructuring with lessors and OEMs contemplated:

- Elimination of equity issuance obligations owed to lessors and OEMs totaling approximately US$557 million, in exchange for 94 million new preferred shares in a one-time issuance to be completed in the first quarter of 2025;
- Extinguishment of US$243.6 million aggregate principal amount of existing notes held by certain lessors and OEMs (the "2030 Lessor/OEM Notes") in exchange for other commercial considerations;
- Exchange of the remaining 2030 Lessor/OEM Notes for new unsecured notes due in 2032 and an option to pay interest in kind; and
